SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

PROFILE

I am a graduate of computer programming. I have experienced many technologies such as unity, C ++, Java, sql, MVC in my education life. My final project was to develop a mobile application with Cordova. I took part in the design of the application with jquery, and in the data extraction with api. In my 4-month internship training, I learned the MVC structure and took an active role in web page development processes. I am currently interested in data science and flutter. And I want to improve myself in this field.
